Art and Social Movements—Ed McCaughan 2012-02-28 This is a study of artist/activists and their participation in social movements in the 1960s, 70s, and 80s, in Mexico City, Oaxaca, and California. McCaughan places the three cities in an international context to illustrate the impact of the cultural, political, and social movements throughout the world. His lucid language, he explains the different printmaking techniques and shows both details and whole prints to demonstrate the effects that can be achieved. Woodcuts, engraving, etching, mezzotint, and lithography are among the many processes explained, illustrated, and placed within a historical context. This fully revised and updated edition of the highly praised 1980 British publication is available for the first time in the United States. With incomplete glosses, comparisons, and the illustrations, Griffith’s book is the essential foundation for an improved appreciation of the printmaker’s art.

Contemporary African Art: Second Edition (World of Art)–Sidney Littlefield Kasfir 2020-04-14 A revised and updated version of the best-selling modern and contemporary African art survey book for students today, Contemporary African Art has grown out of the diverse histories and cultures of the African continent and its diaspora. It is not characterized by one particular style, technique, or theme, but by a bricolage-like attitude toward art making, incorporating and building upon the structures from which older, pre-colonial and colonial genres were made. In this revised and updated edition of Contemporary African Art, Sidney Littlefield Kasfir examines the major themes, developments, and key players—artists, intermediaries, policy makers, and the audience—in a cultural system, especially in the world of art and design. It examines the development, problems and issues of traditional cultural values, identity and new trends in contemporary art. Most importantly, the book attempts to discuss the past, present and future of art and design whilst looking at some underlying issues that need to be addressed collectively.
